Senators Fight Johnson's Plan On Filibusters

Counter-Attack Set To Set Up Broad Rules Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators favoring a sharply tightened curb on filibusters, outmaneuvered at the outset, fought back today against a compromise proposed by Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.).

They announced they would counter-attack by moving to set aside Johnson's resolution and take up instead a more far-reaching proposal for overhauling Senate rules.

This strategy was agreed on by Democratic and Republican senators who make up a steering committee of the antifilibuster forces.

Johnson used his position as majority leader to seize the initiative at the opening session of the new Senate Wednesday and won the first skirmish in the rules battle.

Far From Licked

But Sens. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) insisted the antifilibuster coalition is far from licked. They also made clear they are banking on continued help from Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Senate's presiding officer, who sides with them in contending that each new Senate has the right to adopt its own rules by majority vote.

The point is important, because if Nixon's view is sustained, a simple majority could vote to adopt different rules without operating under the restrictions of prior rules. The rules now permit unlimited debate on any motion to change the rules.

Opposing that is the view that because only one-third of the senators are elected each two years, both the Senate and its rules continue from one session to the next.

The antifilibuster forces had planned to open the battle with a motion by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.) that the Senate take up for immediate consideration

15 Officials Executed in Cuban 'Trials'

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Speedy "war crimes" trials for followers of fallen Dictator Fulgencio Batista have begun in Cuba. Fifteen military officers already have been executed.

Provisional President Manuel Urrutia said thousands of persons will be tried by revolutionary courts in "the same manner as war criminals were tried in Germany." They will be charged with crimes against the Cuban people.

Some of the accused still are being sought, Urrutia told a news conference Wednesday night. At least 1,100 persons have been reported arrested since Batista fled to the Dominican Republic a week ago and victorious rebel leader Fidel Castro proclaimed Urrutia as provisional president.

Gunfire flared briefly in Havana again Wednesday night. Machine-guns and other automatic weapons fired for about 15 minutes near the American-operated Nacional Hotel as rebel militia reportedly pursued several carloads of men who had been shooting at random in the streets.

The militia still is trying to eliminate diehard Batista supporters, including members of a private army called the Tigers which belonged to former Sen. Rolando Masferrer.

Masferrer fled by yacht to Key West, Fla. Minister of the Presidency Luis Bush said Cuba will demand his extradition on charges of taking away 17 million dollars belonging to the people. U.S. Customs officials said Masferrer's party of 36 men had about $90,000 when it landed. The men were put on parole to the Miami Immigration Office.

The government banned sales of alcoholic drinks in Havana today in expectation that Castro finally would reach the capital. Officials hoped the ban would prevent heavy drinking that might add to the unstable security situation.

LISBON—The Columbiana County Court House, David Anderson High School, one seventh grade class in the American Legion Home, two restaurants, 18 business establishments and 30 homes on W. Lincoln Way, from the Square west along Lincoln Way, have been without water since about 3:15 a.m. today after a tractor-trailer parked in front of Hamilton's Drug Store, drifted east on W. Lincoln Way alongside of the Courthouse and knocked over a fire hydrant, light pole, and about 20 feet of hedge, when it jumped the curb and came to rest in the Court House yard.

Vernon B. Pemberton, 34, of Canton, driver of the rig, told police he stopped along the curb on the south side of the street in front of store and went into Crosser's Diner to get a cup of coffee.

Water department employees shut off water valves and began repairs immediately.

They are expected to complete replacement of the fire hydrant and restore water service sometime this afternoon. The Ohio Edison installed a new pole this morning.

The Court House, High School and one seventh grade were closed for the day.

The Court House closing is expected to delay the January grand jury report until sometime Monday.

The two restaurants, other business places and the drug store are having water brought in so that they can remain open.

The tractor is owned by Samuel Miceli of Dover and trailer is owned by Deloma Trucking Company of Alliance. There was no damage to the vehicle, village reports show.

Pemberton advised Ptl. Le

Zahndt that he put on his air

What's Ahead for Business In '59

Cost of Living to Increase Slightly

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Staff Correspondent
(Second of Three Dispatches)

WASHINGTON — NEA — Surprise: In December, 1958, the dollar bill likely will buy only two cents less worth of goods than now. That's an average of the guesses by top government and private economists here. Some think the cost of living will go up only one percent. Some figure a three per cent rise.

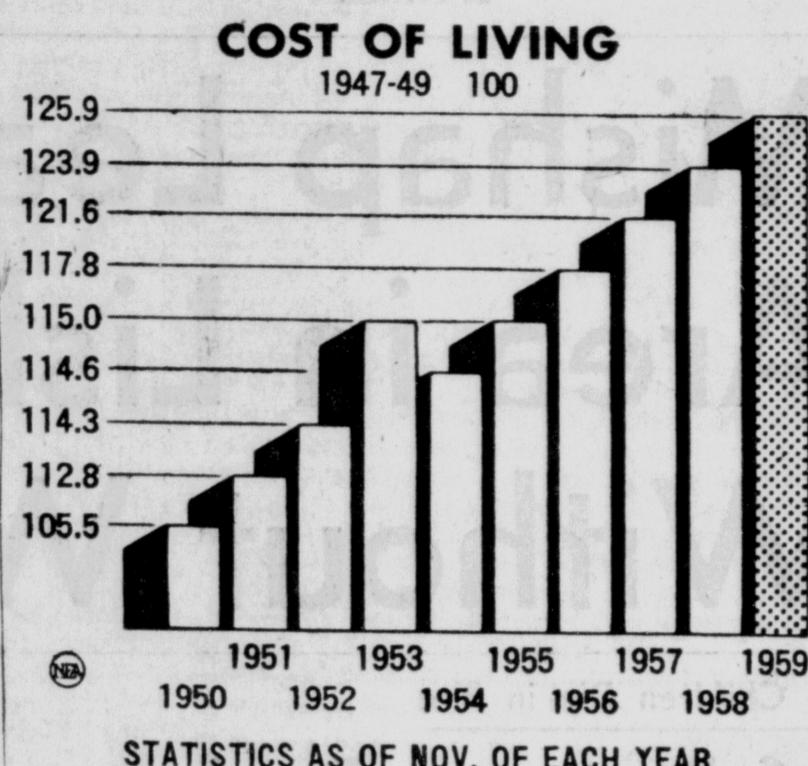

Of course, many goods are going up a lot more than this, but the overall average will be pulled down by a slip in farm-food prices.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce interviewed businessmen throughout the country. Almost half the industrialists interviewed believed the goods they make will go up. Most other businessmen — except bankers — believed their goods or services wouldn't.

ACTUALLY what happens depends on John Q. Consumer. Mr. Consumer has a great deal of power in his hands this year, say the economists. According to his whim, he can keep prices down; or he can force them up.

If he buys heavily at whatever the cost, simply because he has the money or credit, prices will go up. If he waits for a better deal, prices will stay relatively stable.

John C. has the choice this year because he has the money in his pocket and he has enough of many of the things he needs to get by on for another year. He can buy a car or put it off for a while. The same is true of a home, or a washing machine, or a new suit or a TV set. He's in the driver's seat.

PRODUCERS will be in position — in 1959 — to meet John C.'s wishes. They will be able to

Hungarian Refugee Hurls Rock at Soviet

CLEVELAND (AP) — "If you'd been in Hungary, you'd have done more than throw a little bitty rock at those Russians."

Thus plump Emma Halhai, 19-year-old Hungarian freedom fighter, defended her action Wednesday in tossing a rock toward a car escorting Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan in front of Cleveland's Terminal Tower.

Her only regret: "I'm sorry I missed."

Mrs. Halhai was the most vigorous demonstration by any of the numerous representatives of nationalities who showed their disapproval of Mikoyan's visit here.

Interviewed in City Jail, where she was taken to be charged with disorderly conduct, Mrs. Halhai told in halting English how her father died by being in Russian concentration camp.

"They sent him home in time to die," she said.

They said, when they left Budapest, she said, they left Budapest with Halhai's 7-year-old daughter, Margit, Nov. 23, 1956.

After being charged, Mrs. Halhai was released on personal bond, certified by Frank Cziger, 10615 Chester Ave., who sponsored the refugee family here. The Halhais live at 2603 Central Ave.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

There is only one man in the United States across whose desk flash the faint angry words of all labor conflicts. Many of these later come roaring into the headlines by shutting down huge plants or vast national industries. That man is Joseph Finnegan, chief of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service which annually settles or prevents thousands of strikes. For a view of things to come, this column asked the following questions of Mr. Finnegan, because his guesses are the most educated in the land:

Q. What do you think will be some of the "sticky" issues in 1959?

A. There are over 150 major collective bargaining agreements covering upwards of 4½ million workers that will come up for negotiation in 1959. I have no way of predicting which one is going to be the most troublesome, because labor relations seldom follow a set script.

Without even dusting off my crystal ball, I think it is safe to say that a troublesome rumble is in prospect in the oil industry in the very near future. The union is asking for a 25-cent package deal, and management has taken the position that this is unwarranted and inflationary.

It has indicated that it will strenuously resist the union demands. More intense feeling is building up in these negotiations than has been characteristic in the past several years and things could get explosive.

THE STEEL INDUSTRY, of course, has always been somewhat of a wage-pattern setter and it is the big unknown factor for 1959. Some tough talk has been coming out of the Steel Workers Union home office.

And many spokesmen for the steel industry have indicated that the industry is tired of being accused of granting inflationary wage increases and this year is willing to lock horns with the steel union.

It must be remembered that the political and industrial setting was different when the 1956 steel contract was negotiated and this enhances the possibility of a real Donnybrook in the 1959 steel negotiations.

There are, however, some pretty sophisticated bargainers on both sides and public statements don't necessarily have much connection with actual bargaining attitudes when the chips are down.

Problems affecting seniority, automation, plant relocation, size of work crews, and the like will probably mark the 1959 bargaining picture. The recent widely publicized opposition of the International Longshoremen's Association (IND) to automation in shiploading and unloading is a sign of things to come.

That contract, of course, will be "up for grabs" next September.

Remember, too, that historically the shipping industry and the longshoremen have bargained through big, unwieldy groups and this will not make the task of mediating the longshore situation any easier.

Certain trade union alliances could also complicate the longshore negotiations, particularly as they relate to other aspects of the transportation field.

Q. Do you see a tougher bargaining between labor and management, and, if so, why?

A. Yes, I do. I think this tougher bargaining to which you refer has been gradually building up over the last couple of years.

IN THE CASE of industry representatives there has been a growing feeling that profits are not as high as the productivity factor indicates they should be. The toughening up process has been accelerated somewhat by some developments during the recent recession.

During this period of lower sales, management examined many of its production methods, standards and processes and found them to be outdated and uneconomic. By introducing new methods and tightening up on incentive standards and the like, management found it could compensate in a measure for lower sales.

Many management representatives concluded that the way to improve profits was not merely by playing for increased sales but by getting the production to which they felt they were entitled from the working force.

A concomitant of this effort was a drive by management to assert a firmer control of discipline and authority in order to implement these production changes. I think, too, in some industries there is a mounting resistance to company-wide bargaining on the theory that geographical wage differentials should be recognized by unions rather than putting a flat price tag on a particular job wherever performed.

On the labor side, too, there has been mounting pressure attributable in some measure to rank-and-file pressure on labor leaders to get money increases to offset the increase in the cost of living.

TECHNICAL advances in industry are creating a growing demand on the part of rank-and-file workers for greater job security and better fringe benefits.

These are only a few of the factors which have contributed to a tougher bargaining attitude on both sides of the collective bargaining table.

We have set up machinery within the Mediation Service to follow and quickly take action when we spot situations that call for actual or preventive mediation.

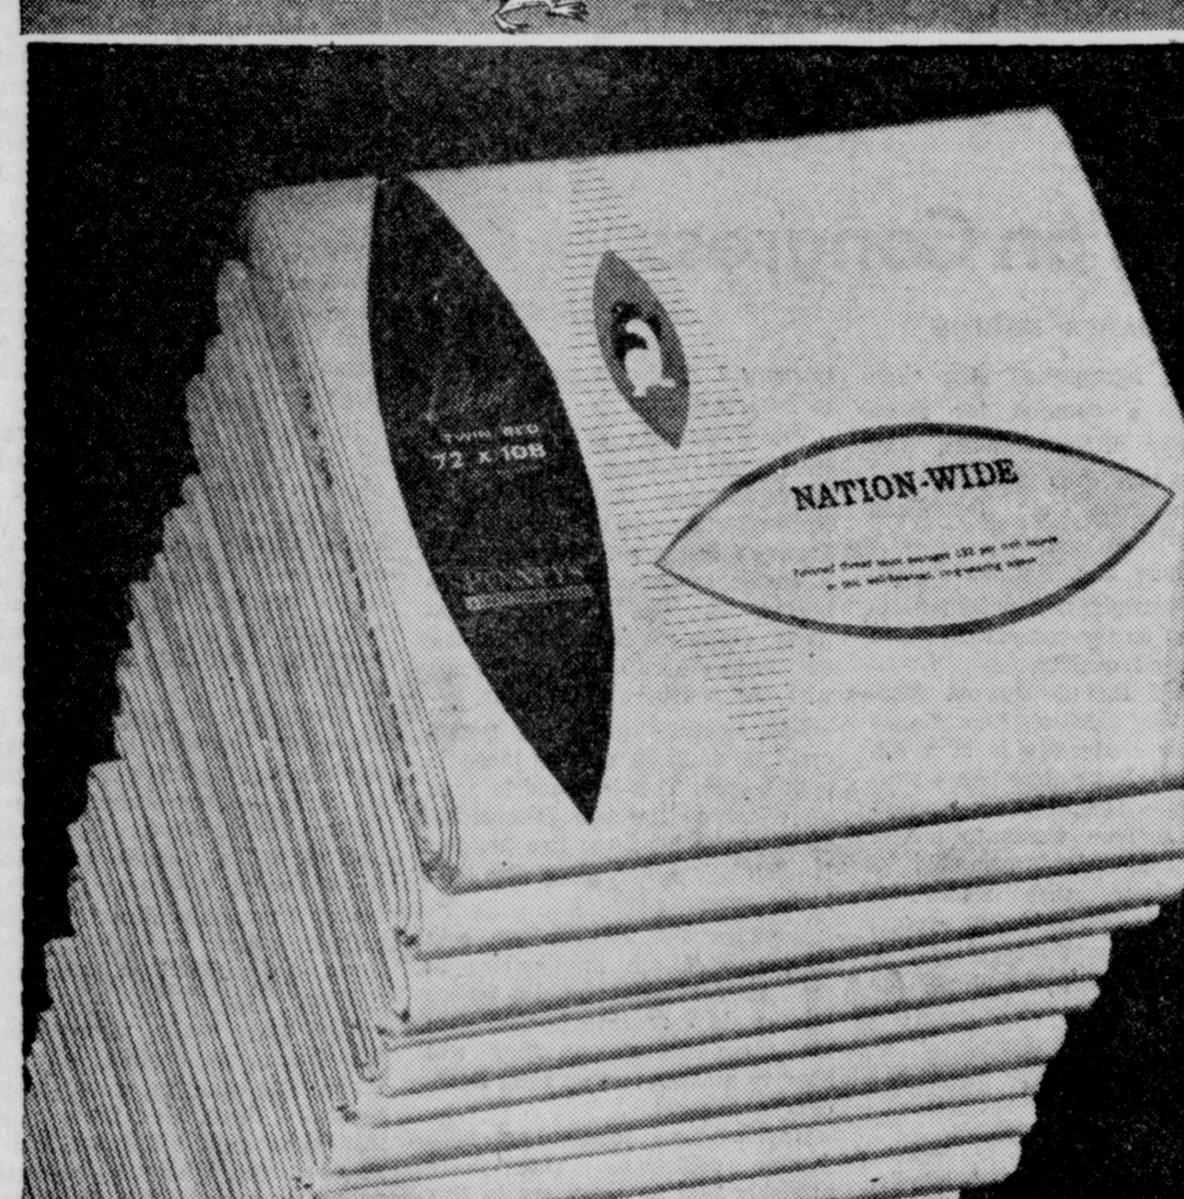

Federal mediators keep close tabs on developments at all of the bases scattered throughout the country and report directly to me when they detect a situation that might blow up with resultant interruptions of America's defense effort.

The City's 'Meter Maids'

Chief of Police Martin Lutsch has asked City Council to abolish the positions of the two "meter maids" who cover the parking meter beat in the downtown district.

The jobs were created by Council in 1957 at the request of former Mayor Dean Cranmer, who felt that the women could handle the duties and thus relieve regular patrolmen for other assignments.

Technically, the "meter maids" are paid by the revenue from the meters they attend, their wages at the present time being $3,000 apiece annually. The parking meters last year netted the city $28,677 in coins for parking time and fines from overtime parking.

It's obvious that the gals who issue tickets with a smile aren't a financial burden, but if Chief Lutsch feels that his department is overstaffed and wants to keep the regular patrolmen busy, that's something else for Council to ponder.

Before the "meter maids" were on the job, the city employed two men to take care of meter maintenance. If abolition of the women's jobs, meant a return to the old system, little would be gained.

We thought the "meter maids" had proved themselves.

Russia Concentrated on Rockets

The official announcement of the Soviet Union's latest and most spectacular rocket demonstration contains one passage that every U.S. critic of his country's rocket policy could read with profit.

"The creative toil of the whole Soviet people aimed at the solution of the most important problems of the development of socialist society in the interests of all progressive mankind has made it possible to carry out the first successful interplanetary flight."

Elsewhere, the announcement says the creation of large and heavy satellites always is the fixed aim of the Soviet's rocket program. Its purpose was to prove something — in this instance the strength of socialism in Russia.

If the United States had been as intent on proving something as the Soviet Union, it too could have taken the lead in rockets, in the same way that it took the lead in atom-splitting during World War II. But the United States was not intent on proving anything, except what already had been proved: That its people have the world's highest standard of living.

While the toil of the Soviet people was being applied to the development of cosmic rockets and "socialist society," without the people's consent, the efforts of the American people were being applied to the maintenance of their standard of living. Had it been proposed that they sacrifice rutabagas for cosmic rockets, while continuing to underwrite the rising cost of military hardware, a ballooning bureaucracy and foreign aid, the American people would have cried out that spenders were taking the chickens out of the pots and the new cars out of the garages. They will cry out when it is proposed in the 1959 session of Congress.

The irony is that the Russian people would rather have these things than artificial satellites, but the Russian people are not consulted. Yet, the masters of the Russian people can cover their inability to give the Soviet Union a high standard of living by whooping with pride over the success of a rocket program that produces no benefits for the Russian people.

They are so good at the whooping, moreover, that U.S. officials are put on the defensive by it and forced to apologize for the most envied country on earth.

Russia has scored a press agent's triumph even greater than its satellite success, spectacular as that is.

'One Who Hangs On Too Long'

The contest for political power is always the same, no matter how much it seems to change.

In a country that relies on armed revolution for changing the political guard, the revolutionists always call themselves "liberals" and the defenders always are called "reactionaries."

In the United States, it is pretty much the same. The power struggle in the new Congress is between "liberals" and "reactionaries," as could be expected. But it is more than happenstance that the liberalism of the liberals is tinged with reaction and the conservatism of the reactionaries is tinged with liberalism. The names don't mean anything.

Even the paragons of analysis who claim these days to be able to classify congressmen according to the way they voted are baffled by the criss-crossing of views and opinions.

It raises the question whether "liberal" and "conservative" are used merely to keep opposing factions from getting mixed up in the fray, in the same way that members of opposing teams wear uniforms of a different hue.

Everybody is playing the same game—political power. Rep. Sam Rayburn, Democratic speaker of the House of Representatives, is playing the same game as his old friend, Rep. Joseph Martin, who has been Republican speaker on the rare occasions when "Mister Sam" was out of the game. Each has been under attack by "liberals."

Could it be that in politics "liberals" are the attackers and the "conservatives" the defenders — and that what they stand for is less important than whether they are in or out of power?

Eventually, new ideas become old ideas.

Once Over

(Being a bad dream of possible situations, if any police department, anywhere, became unionized by Jimmy Hoffa with strike power.)

Hark to the story of Citizen Joe,

A sad, drab tale of bitter woe:

By robbers he was set upon;

Within his home, and left far-gone;

He staggered to the telephone,

And central heard the poor guy mean,

"Police! Police!" To which she said,

"Please ask for someone else instead."

II

"I'm all beat up," his cry came through. "Oh, get a cop and maybe two"; "I'd love to," came the answer clear. "If they're available, old dear, But I've a long, thick waiting list Of folks who need a cop's 'assist'; A teamster I can give to you, And rather think he'll have to do."

III

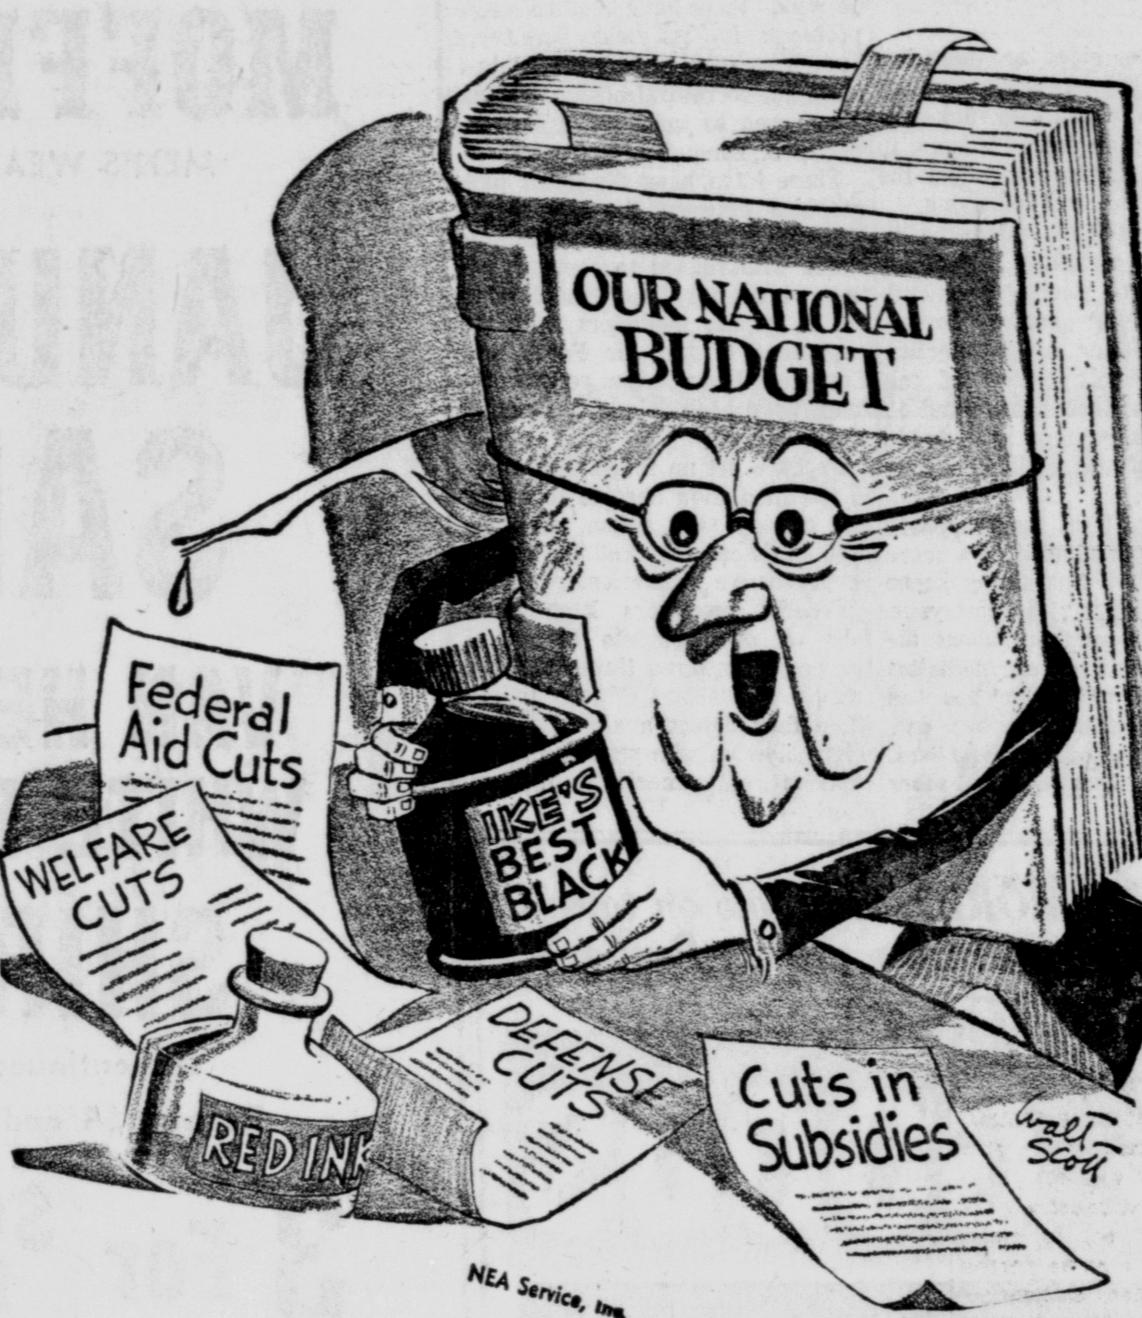

"A teamster!" cried the battered guy. "I have no shipment. Tell me why? My drastic need is for a cop Before beyond all help I flop." The girl replied "Don't be absurd; The cops are out; I thought you'd heard Assistance no one can assign . . . HELP CANNOT CROSS A PICKET LINE."

L'ENVOI

Poor battered Joe gave up the ghost; To poorly gates he seemed to coast; "It's one place" he philosophized "That up to now ain't Hoffanized."

UNDER THE PATTERN of some folks in the Hoffa union would it be possible to call a unionized police department, ask "Can I get a policeman?" and be told "I decline to answer?"

"My Word! Black Ink!"

Predictions on Congress

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three predictions about the new Congress seem safe: It will be more liberal-minded than its predecessor; a big fight among Democrats is unlikely; the split among Republicans will probably continue.

These predictions have their roots in the November elections where the voters, showing distaste for Republican conservatives, gave the Democrats overwhelming majorities in House and Senate.

A look at the score-card tells the story. Last year Democrats outnumbered Republicans in the House 235-200, this year 283-153. Last year Democrats outnumbered Senate Republicans by a paper-thin 49-47; this year 64-34.

Now a bloc of liberal Senate Republicans, interpreting the election as a demand for more progressive Republicanism, are trying to take over the leadership from a band of Republican conservatives.

They may lose. But, having declared themselves, they can hardly line up on the conservative side for the rest of 1959.

The fight that broke out Monday among House Republicans over their leadership is of a different kind, looks more like a power struggle. Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana wants to unseat Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, with whom he worked hand-in-glove for years. Both are conservatives.

The elections gave the Democrats an infusion of new blood in both houses. This is bound to have an effect on the two Democratic Texans who head the two houses; Lyndon B. Johnson. They also tend to be conservative.

Rayburn and Johnson are both conscious of the implications in the last election and the more Democrats they have to deal with the more concessions they will have to make to line up solid Democratic support.

Rayburn and Johnson are both master politicians. They have probably had no superiors in this century in congressional leadership. Probably none has been more influential in getting what he wanted done.

Rayburn was supposed to have done a fight from liberal House Democrats over the House Rules Committee which has been a traditional citadel for Southern Democrats and conservative Republicans.

This committee, under House rules, has been able to bottle up legislation its members didn't like.

There was supposed to have been a fight to break this committee's power. Now Rayburn reportedly has put out the fire before it started.

In the Senate Johnson has been a magician in getting fellow Democrats to work with him. He has to make concessions and grant favors to get cooperation. You can be sure he's doing the same with the new Democrats already.

Nevertheless, just because he has to make concessions, Johnson will be under pressure from the newcomers and the more liberal-minded Democrats to steer away from a too-conservative course. He saw what happened to the Republicans.

The pangs of gout are excruciating. But almost as hard for its victim to bear are the ridicule and lack of sympathy he receives from his so-called friends. They are sure his ailment is a penalty sent from heaven to punish him for living too fast and too loose.

This big lie is struck down formally in a pamphlet "About Gout."

"It has been common belief for centuries that gout was caused by high living — eating rich foods and drinking too much of alcoholic beverages," says the pamphlet. "We now know that 'high living' does not cause gout."

"Gout is a defect in the body's chemistry which frequently leads to an arthritic condition," says the pamphlet. "Gout is never contagious but probably hereditary."

"This metabolic abnormality causes an increase in the amounts of uric acid in the blood and tissues."

The uric acid excess, accumulating in crystalline deposits in cartilage, usually around bone joints, sets up the painful irritation known as gout.

Communists In Cuba

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Reds Have Strategic Position In Labor

There is no question about the fact that the Communists have gotten a toe hold in Cuba. They have a strategic position in the labor movement and are taking advantage of the disturbed conditions, just as they have in other Latin American countries.

The Communists do not always appear in the open — it is being denied, for instance, that they are in any way responsible for the movement which led to Fidel Castro's triumph. But they somehow manage to affiliate with the radical side and by infiltration influence the course of events.

Communist activity has lately been noticeable, too, in Venezuela, where American oil companies now are being harassed as the government there is prodded by the radicals.

What should the policy of the United States be toward the Central and South American governments that are responsive to Communist influence? To withhold recognition or to withdraw it when once granted means an intensification of the friction.

The strategy used in the Middle East — to try, by getting inside a country, to checkmate Communist tactics — may also be feasible in this hemisphere. No line of policy, however, can be laid out with exactness, as each case has its own special circumstances.

Throughout Latin America, a strong and irresistible trend toward freedom and democracy is evident. We should watch this trend in each country, and encourage it in any way that may be appropriate, without violating the fundamental policy of non-intervention.

THE FOREGOING excerpt is an illustration of the complexities encountered in trying to encourage the cause of freedom without antagonizing a dictator who can harass American companies that have invested many millions in his country. If a "dictator" doesn't receive the "special decorations" which he covets so as to enhance his standing in his own country, he gets miffed, and diplomacy finds itself with vexatious problems.

Yet it is important not to become too fraternized with the dictators and this could conceivably apply also to "Summit" conferences with Khrushchev.

Looking back now, the Geneva Conference of 1955 was a mistake, as it tended to discourage the champions of freedom in the capitalist countries.

"De facto" recognition may seem "practical" from a material viewpoint but in the long run America's moral force can best be exerted by withholding full recognition from any government until there has been a free election and some form of constitutional administration has been firmly established.

Nature's Noblemen

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Justice has been done at last to several hundred thousand of nature's noblemen in America.

They are the victims of gout.

These men share a recurrent agony that in the past has afflicted such giants of mankind as Alexander the Great, Isaac Newton, Martin Luther, John Calvin, Goethe, Francis Bacon, Guy de Maupassant and Benjamin Franklin.

The pangs of gout are excruciating. But almost as hard for its victim to bear are the ridicule and lack of sympathy he receives from his so-called friends. They are sure his ailment is a penalty sent from heaven to punish him for living too fast and too loose.

This big lie is struck down formally in a pamphlet "About Gout."

Matter of Fact

Although carbon makes up less than 1 per cent of all matter, it is important to all forms of life for everything that lives or has lived contains it. Carbon is found in a wide variety of forms from soft and slippery graphite to hard diamonds. Because of its softness, graphite makes an excellent lubricant for machines. Mixed with clay and hardened, it becomes "lead" or ordinary pencils.

Gout is perhaps as old as mankind itself, and was known to Hippocrates, the father of medicine, four centuries before Christ.

Gout remains one of the most masculine of ailments. No eunuchs and comparatively few women ever get it.

The fact so many famous men were gout sufferers led one 19th century writer to write that the disease is "peculiarly incidental to men of cultivated mind and intellectual distinction." The pamphlet is less flattering: "There is, unfortunately, no modern medical evidence to support this statement."

Gout remains largely a medical mystery. Obesity seems to make it worse. No one diet seems to control it, but its victims generally are advised to avoid foods such as sweetbreads, anchovies, sardines, liver, kidney, brains and meat extracts.

FORM 2120
(REV. SEPT. 1958)

U. S. TREASURY DEPARTMENT—INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE
MULTIPLE SUPPORT DECLARATION

For instructions see other side.

During the calendar year 1958, I contributed more than 10 percent toward the support of Mrs. Barbara Glenrich, for whom (Name of individual) I would have been entitled to claim a dependency exemption but for the fact that I did not contribute more than 50 percent of his (her) support. I understand that he (she) is being claimed as a dependent on the income tax return of Dave. Glenrich (Name).

262 No. 9 St., Laramie, Wyo., and (Address) I declare that I will not claim his (her) exemption on my Federal income tax return for any taxable year beginning in such calendar year.

4-1-59 (Date) Jimmie Glenrich (Signature) 310 So. 11 St., Laramie, Wyo. (Address)

USE THIS FORM to claim an exemption where several persons contribute more than half of the support. Internal Revenue Service office have copies.

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
(Third of 12 Chapters)

There are two good reasons why it pays to be careful in claiming exemptions on your tax return.

First, if you overlook a legal exemption, you are losing a $600 deduction which is worth $120 even in the lowest tax bracket. And second, the Internal Revenue Service keeps a close check on exemptions. If you claim one to which you are not entitled, you are likely to be embarrassed by an inquiry from the tax people.

THE OFFICIAL INSTRUCTIONS contain a list of persons other than your children who can be claimed as exemptions provided they meet the tests described therein.

One of the tests is the so-called "support test." This test applies, with one exception, to all dependents except your wife or husband. Thus you cannot claim your child or any other person (except your husband or wife) as an exemption unless you (or your wife if a joint return is filed) furnished over half of such persons support during 1958.

The one exception to the support test will be described below under the heading "Multiple Support Agreement."

To determine whether you have furnished over half the cost of support for a dependent during 1958, you must first figure out the total cost of supporting the dependent.

COST OF SUPPORT includes board, lodging, clothing, education, medical care, recreation and the like.

What is the cost of lodging of a dependent living in the taxpayer's home? The Revenue Service formerly took the position that the support value of lodging was based on the expenses incurred in running the house. The service now agrees that lodging is measured by its fair rental value.

If the dependent lives with the taxpayer, household expenses are allocated equally among all members of the household. The taxpayer's contributions are first applied to his own support. The excess is his contribution to the dependent's support.

Suppose your dependent had an operation in December 1958 which you paid for in 1959. You would Traffic fatalities dropped from 15 to 13 in the Mahoning County district last year, compared with 1957, and the number of fatal accidents from 14 to 10, State Highway Patrol statistics show.

Cpl. J. R. Fitzpatrick, officer in charge of the Canfield State Patrol barracks, reported that patrolmen investigated 703 accidents in 1958.

During the year 1,377 persons were arrested for traffic violations, and an additional, 456 arrests were made at the scene of an accident. Arrests for misdemeanors totaled 528 and there were 18 felony arrests.

There were 4,484 written warnings issued in 1958, Cpl. Fitzpatrick said.

The patrol collected $1,962 in registration fees and recovered $6,660 in stolen property during the year. The patrolmen gave a total of 146 speeches and safety talks before 7,800 people.

Patrolmen spent 11,887 hours just

In East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Fire Chief

Glen Liebert reports that the 1958

fire loss in the city was $1,925, which is the lowest figure in the city's records. A year ago the fire loss figure was $17,450.

Fire loss outside the city amounted to $50,500, of which

$50,000 was the Las Vegas Club, located on Rt. 14 between East Palestine and Columbiana, which burned in November.

The volunteer department answered 38 fire calls last year.

During the past year 218 first aid calls were made, compared to 143 in 1957.

Wages for the firemen amounted to $1,300. Chief Liebert receives an annual salary of $3,000, making a total of $4,300 paid from the city's general fund. Of this amount $1,600 was offset by payment from insurance companies or out-of-town calls. The actual cost of the department for the city taxpayers amounted to $2,790.

The Patient—Mother Earth

Greatest Physical Checkup
In History Brought by IGA

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—IGY brought the greatest physical checkup in all history.

The patient—our planet earth. For 18 months, scientists probed and poked at the earth with diagnostic instruments ranging from thermometers to orbiting satellites.

They found high altitude tectonic winds of 200 to 300 miles an hour, and places where the earth's skin or crust is only 2½ miles thick. They charted great rivers of electricity flowing through earth crust and upper air.

These are but some early results. It may take 25 years or more to make the most significant diagnoses from the hundreds of millions of facts gathered.

Green airglow comes from oxygen atoms, with some yellow glow from sodium atoms. IGY scientists also detected unexpected atoms of lithium—presumably shot up by nuclear tests.

Radiation streaming from the sun, or from particles trapped magnetically above the earth, cause the Northern and Southern Lights, or auroras.

But a man-made aurora was detected with one Pacific nuclear test. Scientists theorize a blast could alter the earth's magnetic field enough to allow some trapped particles to stream down upon the earth.

Catching a great solar flare in action last Feb. 10-11, many scientists measured its varied, powerful effects upon earth.

IGY men confirmed the existence of the equatorial electrojet, a powerful electric current flowing in daylight hours only above the earth's magnetic equator. Similar currents presumably circle both Poles. They offer new insight upon solar effects on magnetic fields.

Aground, seismologists used manmade explosions and the shock signals from natural earthquakes to fill in their understanding of the earth's interior and its crust. Shocks from underground A-bomb tests offered a new tool for doing this.

Seismic soundings detected the thinnest crust of the earth yet discovered under the sea—2½ miles—and also the thickest undersea crust—9 miles deep.

The pull of gravity was measured over 75 per cent of the sea surface, and over vast distances on land—adding up ultimately to a far more accurate picture of the earth's gravity, and from that a better conception of the real shape of the earth.

The moon and the sun, through gravity, cause tides not only on the oceans, but also on the land—actually creating wavy bulges in the earth's crust ranging up to eight to 15 inches. One IGY goal was to learn how much the earth and sea tides may be in phase. IGY is helping to satisfy man's curiosity about his world, and stimulates his curiosity the more. It promises to confer great benefits, not only material, but far beyond.

For as Harvard astronomer Dr. Fred Whipple remarked: "Securing a better concept of what life means in the universe might lead humans to settle their differences."

DIES IN FIRE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New claims filed with the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation dropped to 18,430 at the end of last week compared with 22,059 the previous week. Continuing smoke and died.

UNEMPLOYMENT DROPS

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Crittie W. Myers, 67, apparently stumbled and fell while trying to remove belongings from his burning cottage overlooking Sandusky Bay Wednesday. He was overcome by smoke and died.

COLUMBIANA

Council Okays Appointments, Three-Month Appropriation

COLUMBIANA — A temporary appropriation ordinance to finance village operations for the first three months of the year was approved by village council at its meeting Tuesday night. The appropriation total $212,592.19.

Major items of the bill, which was approved under suspension of rules to become effective immediately, include $11,500 for the safety fund, $17,500 for the service fund, $72,300 for the light fund, $25,800 for the water fund, $10,000 for the street construction, maintenance and repair fund, $25,000

Thomas E. Bateman Named to Ohio Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP — Republican Thomas E. Bateman, who lost a $12,000-a-year salary when he was ousted as Senate clerk in the recent Democratic sweep, is once again a solid figure in the Statehouse — again at $12,000 a year.

The portly Bateman, who held a lot of power in the Senate's top administrative post during the retiring Republican administration of Gov. C. William O'Neill, has a new job. It is director of the Legislative Reference Bureau which assists members of the Ohio General Assembly in preparing legislation.

Bateman was able to help himself along the road to the new job. The director of the bureau is selected by three people — clerk of the Ohio Senate (which was Bateman's job until last Monday); the clerk of the Ohio House and Gov. O'Neill.

O'Neill, House Clerk Carl Guess and Bateman cast the necessary three votes to give Bateman the job. There had been no plans to announce the appointment for several days, but Bateman took over the job Wednesday.

The same selection committee also decided that Bateman should make the same salary as he did as Senate clerk — $12,000 a year, so the salary of Arthur A. Schwartz, retiring director, was raised from $563.33 a month to $1,000 a month.

Jaycees To Attend Weekend Convention

About 215 members of the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce will attend the state Jaycee convention in Youngstown Saturday and Sunday at the Pick-O-Hio Hotel, according to George Ehrhart, president.

National Jaycee President Robert V. Cox will address the delegates at a noon banquet Sunday. A visit to an electric freight yard, and the President's Ball will highlight Saturday's events.

Reservations may be made with Jack Rance at the Bliss Co.

DIES FROM FUMES
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A second person is dead from carbon monoxide fumes that took the life of a Columbus policeman. Police Sgt. Clyde Beck's housekeeper, Mrs. Anna Gilliam, 42, died Wednesday in Mercy Hospital. Beck, 49, was found dead in his apartment Tuesday and Mrs. Gilliam was lying unconscious. The fumes seeped from two gas heaters whose flues were plugged up from chimney debris.

Large Damage Suit Filed by Canton Man

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A damage suit filed in Jefferson Circuit Court here asks $500,000 damages in the traffic death of Carl Haddox, 47, Canton, Ohio, and $100,000 in the death of his daughter-in-law Mrs. Donald Haddox, Marietta, Ohio.

They were killed, police said, when their station wagon was hit from behind by a semi-trailer oil truck on the Dixie Highway south of here Sept. 27.

The police report said the station wagon, driven by Haddox, stopped behind a dump truck which had stalled on the highway. The truck driver had left to seek help at a service station.

The suit was filed Wednesday but attorney George A. Hendon as administrator of the two estates. It names as defendants the L. L. Morris Supply Co., Glasgow, Ky., the driver who operated the oil truck for Morris, the firm owned.

EXPENSIVE TOY

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Rupert Loza picked up a piece of what he thought was costume jewelry in the mud near a hotel and gave it to his young daughter, who carelessly tied it to her favorite rag doll — until the bracelet was identified in the lost and found ads as platinum with 21 diamonds valued at $4,000. The Lozas returned it.

954 Confined In County Jail During 1958

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossen reports a total of 954 prisoners were confined in the county jail during 1958, averaging 34 prisoners per day who served a total of 12,518 days.

A total of 37,552 meals was provided inmates at a cost of $11,794.56, or an average cost per meal of 31.4 cents.

The sheriff's department handled 168 warrants, 89 indictments and 2,720 civil papers. Twenty-three sheriff sales yielding a total of $22,743.70 were conducted, and 129 executions of legal orders were carried out, bring in $12,765.11.

A total of 64,324 radio transmissions was handled at the county jail, along with 13,222 phone calls. During the year, 2,034 persons visited the jail.

The sheriff's five cars traveled a total distance of 168,865 miles. Six hundred forty-five sets of fox feet were turned in to the sheriff's office for bounty during the year.

Damascus Ruritan Club Urges Early Time Change in Fall

DAMASCUS — The Rev. Edward Escombe and William Ingold were received as new members when the Damascus Ruritan Club held a dinner meeting at the Damascus Methodist Church Wednesday.

A discussion was held on the numerous accidents of school buses in foggy weather conditions. The Ruritans recommended that when the time changes in the fall that schools change time in September rather than to wait until October.

Another recommendation offered was that in the event of a heavy morning fog that school buses should wait until the fog clears before starting morning pick-ups.

Allen F. West, director of the Goshen Union High School band, suggested that the Ruritans organize or back a community band.

Tom Eddy, member of Boy Scout Troop 79, who received a Stambaugh medal last year, gave a talk which revealed that the Damascus Boy Scout Troop is not inactive as was suggested at last month's Ruritan meeting.

Two films were shown, one concerning former President William McKinley, and the other, a story of Abraham Lincoln while he lived in Illinois.

There were 37 members present and two visitors. The ladies of the Damascus Methodist Church served the dinner. The next meeting will be at the same place Feb. 4.

ed that the bond indebtedness was also reduced during last year.

Council authorized the purchase of additional salt and ashes for use on Leetonia streets.

Discarded Christmas trees will be picked up throughout the village Monday and Tuesday, it was reported by Street Commissioner Richard Kleinknecht.

Councilmen attending the meeting were James Ciminielli, Richard Carney, Jessie Nicollete, Victor Hedi, Dan Cullinan, Joseph Weikart, and Solicitor Edward Greenamyer.

require at least 22 favorable votes in the Senate (where Democrats hold a 20-13 edge) and 93 in the House (where Democrats have a 78-61 margin).

If enough Republicans balked, Democrats would be unable to make the pay increases stick.

When passed Tuesday, the bill cleared the Senate 29-9, and the House 96-26.

The bill is an emergency measure, meaning it goes into effect when the governor signs it instead of after the customary 90-day waiting period.

It provides pay hikes totaling $41,000 a year for 114 Cabinet appointees. The pay of one appointee, the adjutant general, would stay the same, and another, the highway director, would be cut by $7,500.

tactics used Wednesday at the airport and downtown. One young Hungarian woman, arrested for tossing a rock in the general direction of the Soviet party, said she was "sorry I missed." She said her father died in a Soviet concentration camp, her husband spent six years in a work camp and "I see my friends killed by the Russians."

Mikoyan spent a very busy day Wednesday on the first leg of his five - city transcontinental whirlwind tour.

He addressed a group of wealthy and influential Midwest industrialists at the aristocratic Union Club. He told them he had recently seen a secret Soviet motion picture of an H-bomb explosion and that the picture made him wonder whether all the things the Soviet Union is building might not be annihilated in a few seconds.

The Soviet leader was told by his host in Cleveland, multimillionaire Cyrus Eaton, that Eaton hopes the U.S. Congress will remove restrictions on credits and trade to the Soviet Union.

In Detroit today Mikoyan is in the hands of Walter L. Cisler, president of Detroit Edison. He makes a visit to the Ford River Rouge plant and will catch a glimpse of General Motors and Chrysler, two Detroit Edison plants and have luncheon and dinner with Detroit automotive and industrial executives.

From Detroit he proceeds to Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles before returning to New York early next week. From New York he goes to Washington where he will see President Eisenhower.

Norman Houger

Filing for the Republican nomination as mayor, Norman W. B. Houger of 1643 Southeast Blvd., yesterday became the first candidate to officially enter the city primaries scheduled May 5.

Mayor Harold D. Smith has indicated he will seek renomination but has not filed.

Mr. Houger, a Salem resident for five years, is owner of the Modern Improvement Co. He is 47, married and the father of two children, Bobby, 4, and Jeffrey, 2. Before coming to Salem he was in sales work in Youngstown industries.

Another candidate filing for renomination on the Republican ticket was Mrs. Helen R. Coyne of 1643 Fair Ave., city auditor.

the adoption of rules for the new Congress.

Instead, Johnson proposed a change in rules to permit filibusters to be halted by two-thirds of the senators present and voting.

This contrasts with the present rules requiring the votes of 66 senators, or two-thirds of all 98 members, to shut off debate. It also contrasts with proposals to limit debate limitation by a majority of the members, or 50 senators.

Miss Katherine Gibson, Elwood Hammell and Dr. Harley Thayer were elected to three-year terms as members-at-large of the Chest Council.

TRUCKERS FORFEIT BONDS

Three truck drivers left a total of $147 in bonds in Mayor Harold Smith's court today. Leaving bonds were: Frank K. Haslage, 61, of Pittsburgh, overload, $47; William G. Spaulding, 54, Paris, Ill., overload, $25; and Emmitt Griffie Wilkinsburg, Pa., overload, $25 and failure to display highway use tax permit, $50.

HONEST HOLDUP MEN

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Two youths drove up to a service station in suburban Renton and pulled a pistol on attendant Roy Wendt. "I haven't any money," Wendt said. "Okay," answered one would-be robber. "Fill up the tank, then." Wendt did: $3.35 worth. The robbers drove off—but not until they received their change for a $5 bill one of them handed Wendt.

Surgery Only Sure Cure for Cataract

A few people like to rush into having surgery at the slightest provocation. They seem to enjoy the attention under such circumstances as they receive from doctors, nurses, family and friends.

Many more, however, resist the suggestion of an operation except under emergency conditions, even when this offers the best chances of recovery.

In the latter group is a correspondent who writes: "I have a cataract on my right eye and wonder if there isn't anything to cure it except an operation."

Unfortunately, there is no generally accepted medical treatment for a cataract. There are no drops or medicines which can be put in the eyes or given by mouth or injection which most doctors feel will prevent cataract formation, delay its progress or improve one which has already formed.

This does not mean that such a preparation may not be discovered eventually. But up to now there is nothing of the kind which has received general medical acceptance.

Cataracts may be present at birth or in youth, but certainly they are much more common in the middle and later years of life. Usually, the reason for this is not clear. Sometimes the development of cataracts may be associated with the presence of disease, such as diabetes.

THE FIRST SYMPTOM of a cataract is likely to be blurring of the vision. Objects such as buildings, trees or mountains will start to look hazy as if they were seen through a thin cloud. This is because the lens of the eye has become clouded and, like the lens of a camera, it must be clear to reveal a sharp picture. The image recorded on the brain is like that which passes through the camera lens to the film.

The sight is only slightly affected at first. The amount of clouding depends on the change in the lens of the eye.

In answer to Mrs. R., a cataract is not painful.

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL treatment for cataract is an operation. In the past, a cataract was considered unsuitable for an operation and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crosser until it had become mature, or attended a party recently at the

Salem At Warren Friday; Ravenna Here Saturday

Warren Is 4-5;
Ravenna At 4-4

Locals Heavy Choice
In Both Encounters

On the basis of comparative scoring averages Salem's Quakers should rate as heavy favorites in their clashes Friday and Saturday against Warren Harding and Ravenna, respectively.

Salem's defensive average is just about the same as Warren's and Ravenna's offensive per game clip.

The Quakers are permitting their opponents but 53.3 points a game this season. Warren is averaging 53.6 a game while the Ravens are averaging 52.3.

The opponents of both Warren and Ravenna have scored more points than either the Black Panthers or the Ravens.

Warren's foes are averaging 58.2 a game while the Ravens' opponents come in at 52.7.

Salem is averaging 72.3 every 32 minutes.

THE QUAKERS will be at Warren Friday and back home Saturday with Ravenna. The junior varsity game each night will begin at 7 p.m.

Warren beat Leavittsburg 66-39 last Tuesday and now own a 4-5 record. Ravenna was idle Tuesday and their next game isn't till Saturday with Salem. Their slate is 4-4.

Salem and Warren will average the same height but the locals will be taller than the Ravens.

Starters for Warren will be 6-4 Dave Tutich who is averaging 10.6 a game, 5-10 Joe Malone, 9-0; 5-10 Ron McGarry, 8-3; 6-3 Jack Curington, 8-3 and 5-11 Willie Jones. Their sixth man is 5-10 Paul Warfield.

Warren has beaten Edinburgh 59-56, East Liverpool 58-56, Struthers 55-44, and Leavittsburg. They have lost to Newton Falls 60-41, Sharon, Pa. 58-26; Massillon 67-40, Canton Lehman 79-50, and Canton McKinley 65-58. Salem beat Warren last year 63-53. The locals hold an all-time edge of 14-13 since 1932.

RAVENNA'S starters will be 6-2 Dave Wanck, 6-1 Jon Hay, 6-2 Joel Daumik, 5-11 Bob Cook and 5-7 Jim Kuhar. The sixth man is 5-8 Dick Hugill.

Dauanic is their leading scorer with a 15.8 average while Cook is second at 12.3.

Ravenna has defeated Crestwood 75-46, Newton Falls 53-50 in overtime, Tallmadge 53-46 and Brecksville 47-42. They have lost to Stow 53-51, Southeast 68-48, Ashtabula Fairport Harbor 63-48 and Kent Roosevelt 54-44.

The Quakers won last season 61-38 and hold a margin of 13-6 in the series which began in '32.

Salem mentor John Caban will no doubt start the same five men which have carried the Quakers to a 5-1 record. They are 6-4 Clyde Marks, 6-1 Woody Deitch, 6-4 Lou Slaby, 5-9 Dan Krichbaum and 5-10 Dave Hunter.

DEITCH and Krichbaum have provided the Quakers with a tremendous double-barreled offensive. When one is off the other takes up the slack. Deitch is averaging 16.7 while Krichbaum is 16.3. Salem's third high man is Hunter whose average is 11.0. Slaby is next at 10.0.

The locals won't be in action again either next Tuesday. After the Ravenna game they'll be at home Friday Jan. 16 with Niles and will travel to Sebring next Saturday, Jan. 17.

Probation Slapped on USC by NCAA Group

CINCINNATI—The University of Southern California, which last year scored the first team triple in NCAA championship history, today was left with crack baseball, tennis and track squads that cannot defend their titles.

And the USC swimming team, boasting Australian stars Murray Rose and Jon Henricks, is not eligible to challenge Michigan for the NCAA swimming championship because the NCAA Executive Council Wednesday night placed Southern Cal on two years' probation for violation of the NCAA athletic code.

But in an earlier action on the first day of the 53rd annual convention, the NCAA gave new athletic life to football player Don Fuell, key figure in the Auburn recruiting scandal which culminated in NCAA probation for Auburn and Southern Conference disciplinary action which barred Fuell, an end, from participation in SEC athletics.

In a ruling requested by Mississippi Southern College, the council said that Fuell would be eligible to compete in athletics at the Hattiesburg, Miss., school if he is now a third-semester student. This, in effect, gave Fuell a clean bill of health at any NCAA-member school except those in the Southeastern Conference.

Within a few hours after the ruling, it was announced at Hattiesburg that Fuell had entered Mississippi Southern. He already had been accepted for the winter term which began Tuesday.

It had been expected that Southern Cal, already serving a two-year probation, would be restored to good graces. The previous two-year probation had been due to expire Nov. 13, 1958, and the official announcement that it had done so was expected by the NCAA.

Over all, the university is barred from participating in 15 NCAA championship events and 28 cooperative events for the period of one year; from participation in any NCAA-controlled sports television appearances for two years, and it was stipulated additionally that any violation of NCAA requirements during the two-year period may be considered as cause for expulsion from the NCAA.

Olmedo Withdraws From Tournament

PERTH (AP) — Alejandro Olmedo's sensational Australian tennis campaign came to a temporary halt today when the young Peruvian was forced to withdraw from the Western Australian championships because of a strained stomach muscle.

Playing with United States Davis Cup teammate Barry MacKay, of Dayton, Ohio, in the doubles semifinals, Olmedo walked off the court after playing 12 games and said: "I am sorry—I cannot continue."

At that stage the 22-year-old Olmedo who almost singlehandedly whipped Australia in the Davis Cup Challenge Round 10 days ago, had dropped his third straight service and was in obvious pain. Sweden's Ulf Schmidt and Jan Lundquist had won the first set 6-3 and were leading 2-1 in the second.

Although no formal announcement was made it was a virtual certainty that Olmedo also would pull out of the singles semifinals Friday, when he is scheduled to play Andres Gimeno of Spain, and rest himself for the Australian nations later this month in Adelaide.

Olmedo's default would send Gimeno into the singles final where he would meet the winner of the match between MacKay and Earl Buchholz Jr., of St. Louis, American teammates. The two Yanks clash Friday.

Olmedo said his troublesome stomach muscle was a chronic one which hurt him several times in California and reappeared in his Challenge Round match against Australia's Ashley Cooper in Brisbane, Dec. 31.

He pulled the muscle again Wednesday in the first set of his five-set quarter-final victory over Australia's Rod Laver.

Bob Boyd Cops Split Decision Over Mims has not won at least one game this season.

Tim Laubscher broke a 42-42 tie in the last 30 seconds with two foul shots to provide the winners with their triumphant margin.

Ray Esterly paced the victors with 13 while Hink Beall tossed in 11. Fred Ackerman led the losers with 17 while Mike Solemen had 14.

Twenty points by Bruce Feicht aided Bennetts past Speakers who were led by John Mandish's 16 tallies.

Bennetts led all the way leading 26-19 at intermission.

Riffles trailed Millers 44-41 going into the final period but outscored the eventual losers 15-11 in the last frame to notch the win.

Bill Davidson had 20 for the winners while Bob Stallsmith had 16 for the losers.

Cantonese Lobster

Ingredients: 1 package (8 ounces) containing 2 frozen rock lobster tails, 2 tablespoons peanut oil, 1 large garlic clove, $\frac{1}{2}$ pound (1/4 cup) ground lean pork, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup finely diced carrot, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup finely diced celery, Mixing Sauce, 2 small scallions (green onions) finely cut with some tops included.

Method: Have lobster thawed, wash in cold water and drain. With kitchen scissors cut away thin undershell. Cut each tail in 2 crosswise pieces. Heat oil in 9- or 10-inch skillet; add minced garlic and pork.

Cook and stir with a fork over low heat until meat loses its pink color and is in crumbles. Add carrot and celery; cook gently, stirring occasionally, about 5 minutes. Add Mixing Sauce and lobster shell side down. Stir constantly until sauce thickens. Turn lobster shell side up.

Cover and cook gently, shaking pan often, just until lobster is cooked through and opaque looking—this takes only a few minutes; do not overcook. Sprinkle with cut scallions. Serve at once. Makes 2 servings.

Mixing Sauce: Dissolve 1 chicken bouillon cube in $\frac{1}{4}$ cup boiling water; stir in 2 teaspoons soy sauce $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon sugar. Mix 1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch with 2 tablespoons cold water until smooth; add to soy sauce mixture.

Always cover yeast dough that's set aside to rise, and be sure it is not in a draft.

Spaghetti Eating Uninhibited

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Amateur psychologists look at spaghetti eaters and give out with free character analyses.

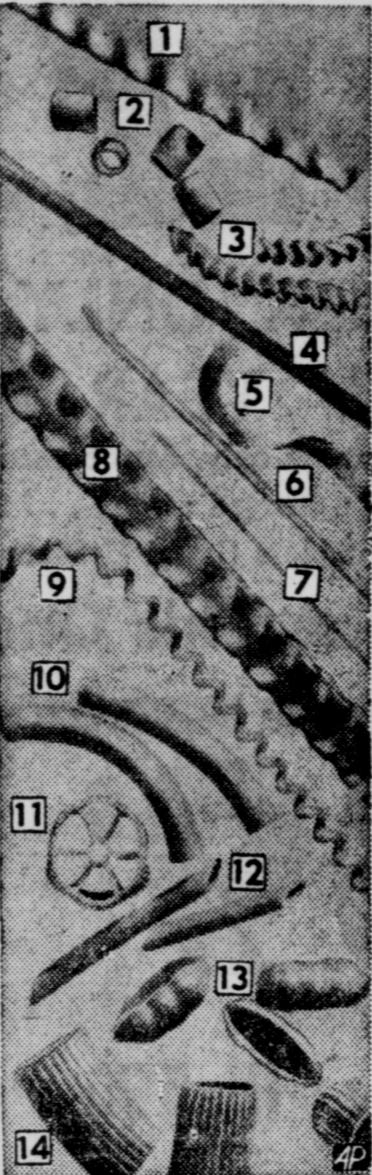

Do you attack the pasta boldly and directly, or play around aimlessly with its strands on the end of your fork?

If you use both a fork and spoon, do you wind the spaghetti neatly around your fork and then with the help of your spoon lift it efficiently and affirmatively into your mouth? Or do you roll it higgledy-piggledy over your fork and use your spoon to juggle the loose ends into your buccal cavity?

Do you start right in eating at the top, or do you skeptically look over your plateful while you decide from which side to approach?

After this breakdown, the culinary witch doctors advise: Forget inhibitions and eat pasta any way you like. Spaghetti protocol allows many a slip between the plate and the lip.

That this country has taken to spaghetti and other Italian food is sure. Witness the cook books on the subject and their wide sale. Think of the neighborhoods that boast Italian restaurants. Pizza places now flourish on Cape Cod, once pre-eminently the home of baked beans and brown bread, baked beans and brown bread, your family a big favor if you go all the way: cook pasta "al dente" as is done in Italy, we beg of you. That means you'll end with firm texture and fine flavor instead of mush. Stand by that boiling potful of pasta and test, test, test. At intervals bite strands between your teeth until the spaghetti has just reached the perfect firm-but-tender stage, then drain promptly and serve.

So many ways to make pasta! For something interesting try this recipe given to us by a man with a charming Italian accent. He pours a little olive oil into a small skillet, throws in some flat anchovies and mashes them over low heat. Then the combination is forced through a fine strainer to get rid of any bones—even those infinitely small.

"The success of this sauce," our friend insists, "depends on the complete absence of bones."

Finally he tosses the anchovy mixture with hot cooked linguine and rushes it to the table.

When we tried this out tasters were intrigued. No a jot of anchovy coats the pasta in a fascinating, chovy to be seen, but the sauce coats the pasta in a fascinating,

Pineapple Bars

Ingredients: $\frac{1}{4}$ cup soft butter or margarine, 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar, 1 cup sifted flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt, $\frac{1}{2}$ cups falked coconut, Pineapple Filling.

Method: Cream butter and brown sugar; add flour, salt and coconut. Mix with fingers until like crumbs. Press one-half of mixture firmly into buttered and floured baking pan (9 by 9 by 1 1/2 inches).

Spread Pineapple Filling evenly over surface. Cover with remaining crumb mixture; press top layer down firmly.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until golden brown—about 35 minutes. Place pan on wire cake rack to cool. Cut into 24 bars; remove with spatula; store in tightly covered container.

Pineapple Filling: Stir together $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar, 3 tablespoons cornstarch and $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt in a 1-quart saucepan; stir in 1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple, including syrup. Cook and stir constantly until thickened and clear after boiling—about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in 1 tablespoon butter and 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Household Hints

Slice pork tenderloin crosswise and dredge with seasoned flour. Brown in a small amount of hot fat, then add a little cream and cover; cook until tender, adding more cream if necessary.

Many recipes call for folding whipped cream into a gelatin mixture that has just begun to set or is at the mounding stage. Beat the cream until it is just thick, no longer, or it will be hard to combine it with the gelatin mixture.

FAT OVERWEIGHT

Now available to you for first time in this country is a prescription for your new drug called ODRINEX. You must lose ugly fat in 7 days or your money back. More starvation diets, strenuous exercises, laxatives, massage or taking of so-called reducing candies, crackers or cookies, or chewing gum will not help. ODRINEX is absolutely harmless. When you take ODRINEX, you still enjoy your meals, still eat the foods you like, but you simply don't have the urge for extra portions because ODRINEX depresses your appetite and decreases your desire for food. Automatically, your weight must come down because your own doctor will tell you, when you eat less, you weigh less. Get rid of excess fat and live longer. ODRINEX is sold on trial basis. Just return the package to your druggist and get your full money back. ODRINEX costs $3.00 and is sold with this strict money back guarantee.

Try This Easy Baked Alaska

Some people like Alaska in winter. Most, however, will settle for a baked Alaska served in a warm dining room with snow outside on the window sill.

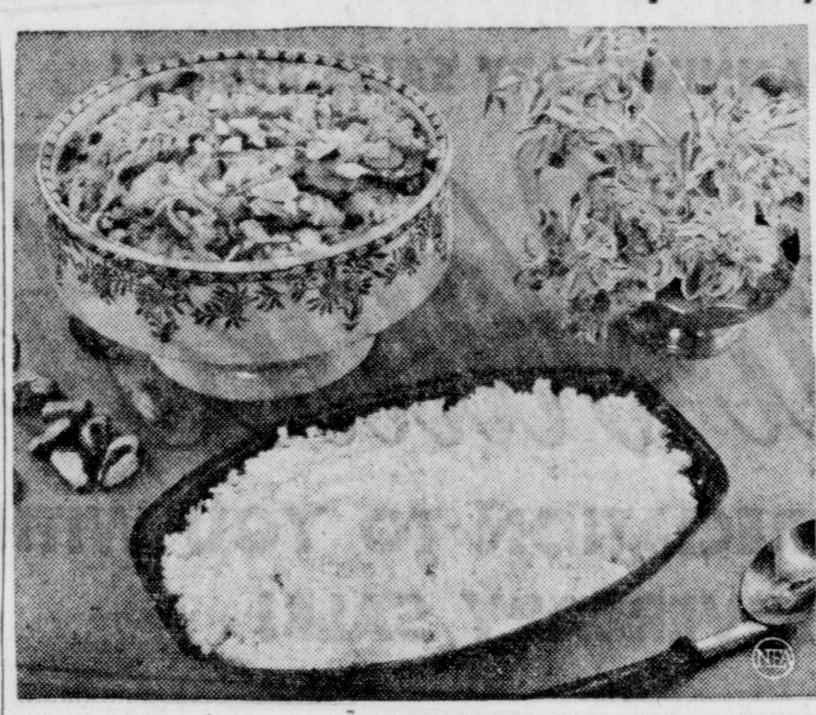

As new as our 49th state, there is a vacuum-baked canned cake, weighing 12 ounces, on the market. It has long shelf life and comes as chocolate fudge, marble or golden pound cake. Good to have on the shelves for sudden need when there's no time to bake a cake yourself. We've tried the marble and the chocolate fudge, and they're good.

Here's a recipe for individual 3 egg whites, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt, 6

baked Alaska using vacuum-baked chocolate fudge cake:

One can chocolate fudge cake, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoons sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon brandy flavoring, 1 pint (round container) very firm ice cream. Chill cake in can several hours or overnight. Preheat oven to very hot (550 degrees F.). Beat egg whites and salt until stiff but not dry. Gradually add sugar and flavoring; beat until very stiff. Remove chilled cake from can and cut into 8 thin slices. Place 4 of the slices on baking sheet. Cutting through the container, slice the ice cream into 4 rounds. Slip the ice cream onto the cake slices and top with remaining 4 slices of cake. Quickly pile meringue on top and sides of each sandwich. Place in preheated oven and bake 1 minute or until lightly browned. Serve immediately.

Add Brazil Nuts In Chop Suey

Although chop suey is not a typically Chinese dish, it does follow some principles of Chinese cookery. For example, the small amount of fat used, and serving incants and vegetables together. Cooking time is short, and the seasoning subtle.

Chop suey combines ingredients popular in the Far East—bean sprouts, soy sauce, ginger. Brazil nuts supplement the crispness and flavor of the dish and have a texture somewhat similar to water chestnuts.

Brazil Nut Chicken Chop Suey (Yield: 6 servings)

Two tablespoons salad oil, $\frac{3}{4}$ cup coarsely chopped Brazil nuts, 1 cup diced celery, 2 cups chicken stock, 1 package (10 ounces) frozen julienne green beans, 1 can (1 pound) bean sprouts, drained; 1 can (3 or 4 ounces) sliced mushrooms, 2 cups diced cooked chicken, 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon ginger, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup water.

Heat oil in large skillet. Add nuts and cook, stirring occasionally, until lightly browned. Add celery; cook until tender, but not brown. Add chicken stock, beans, bean sprouts, mushrooms, chicken, monosodium glutamate, soy sauce and ginger. Bring to a boil, breaking up frozen beans with a fork. Reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes. Mix together cornstarch and water; add to chicken mixture and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Serve with hot cooked rice.

Brazil Nut Crabmeat Salad (Yield: 4 servings)

One can (6 $\frac{1}{2}$ ounces) crabmeat, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup diced celery, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sliced Brazil nuts, 2 tablespoons chili sauce, 1-3 cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt, avocado or tomato.

Shred crabmeat and remove membrane; add celery and nuts.

Combine chili sauce, mayonnaise, lemon juice and salt. Add to salad mixture and mix lightly. Serve with avocado or tomato wedges.
